

Financial services and banking workplace snapshot

Industry overview

Financial organizations are navigating increased regulation, digitization, and evolving talent expectations.

Workplaces must balance confidentiality, concentration, and high-speed collaboration —while signaling trust and stability to clients.

This snapshot highlights key GWI 2025 insights shaping financial services and banking workplaces globally.

“Bread Financial’s new workplace is more thoughtful than any office I’ve ever worked in. The space gives you the energizing feeling you get when you’re in a coffee shop, with the added bonus of all the equipment and amenities from an office.”

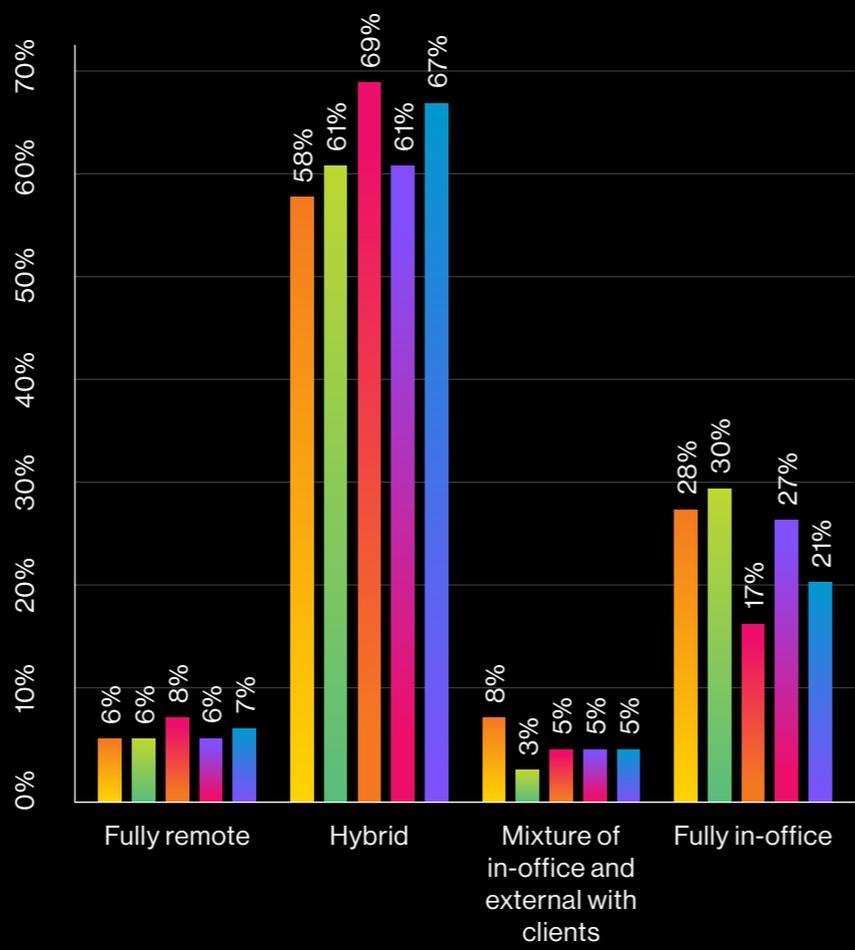

Joseph Benkis

Senior Director, Head of Acquisitions
Bread Financial

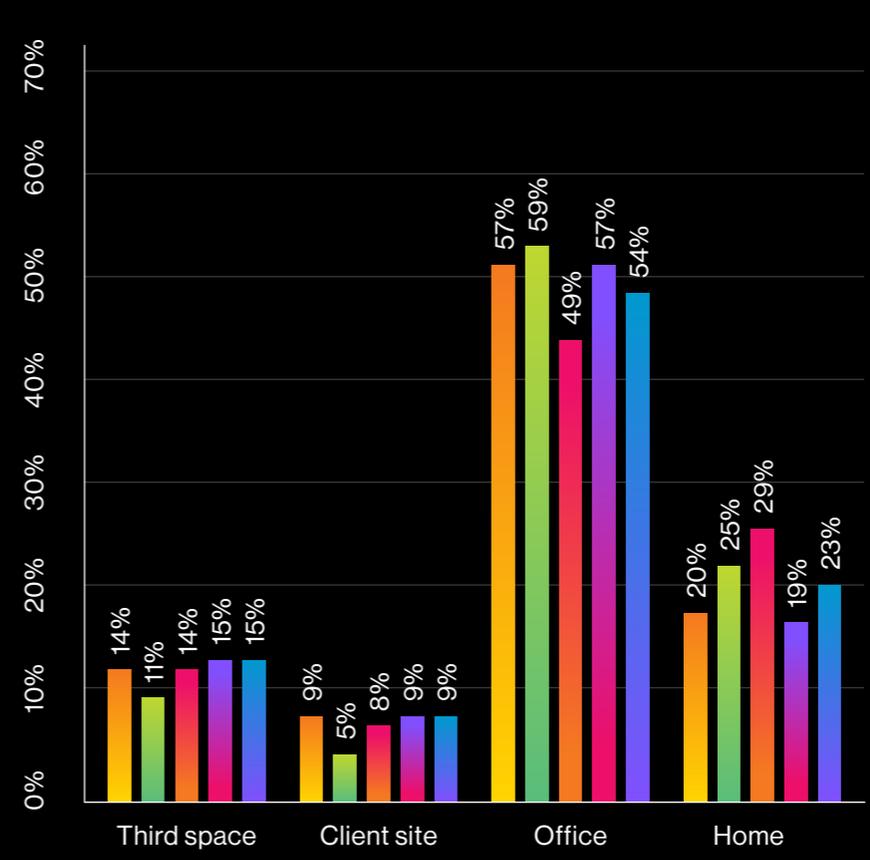

GWI insights

A Moment of Clarity:
Global Workplace Insights
2025-2026 industry data

Current work policies

Split of working hours across locations

Insight narrative:

Financial teams need environments that reduce risk, elevate client experience, and enable rapid decision-making.

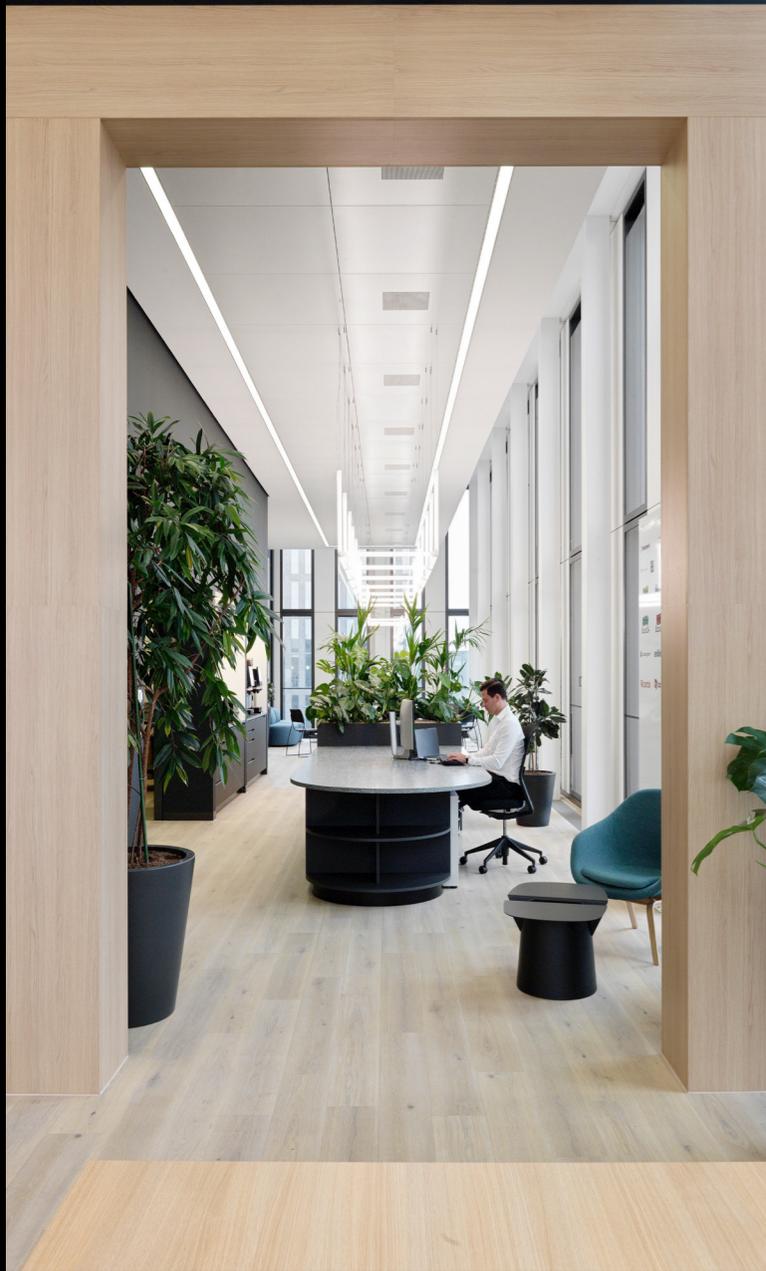

When physical and digital environments align, productivity increases significantly.

- Global average (all industries)
- Industry average (Credit services)
- Industry average (Insurance)
- Industry average (Banking)
- Industry average (Financial services)

What this means for your workplace

- 01 Design secure, tech-forward collaboration hubs
- 02 Elevate client-facing spaces with hospitality-led experiences
- 03 Improve team cohesion through neighborhood-based planning
- 04 Support compliance and focus with zoning and acoustic strategies

WHY UNISPACE

We help financial organizations create workplaces that reduce complexity and improve performance. Our global experience brings consistency, certainty, and speed.

CONNECT WITH OUR INDUSTRY WORKPLACE EXPERTS